

Abstract of the Disclosure

2 A saw includes a base and a supporting member for supporting the base above ground, 3 with the base pivotally attached to the supporting member. The base includes a clamping device
4 mounted thereon for supporting an end of a workpiece. The base can be tilted to a position where 5 another end of the workpiece is supported by the ground.